

Marc Gladstone is a producer, keyboardist and singer, with Stone Poets, HEAD and Abandon Paris. "Smoke and Mirrors" (Stone Poets fourth album), was released early 2018 and HEAD's 2nd album release, "Dear Father" was released April 28, 2018. HEAD's 1st album, "Afraid to Sleep" was nominated for a Juno Award in 2017. He's also the keyboardist for the iconic, Canadian band, Prism.

Besides being one of the principal piano instructors at Long & McQuade for the past 10 years, he saw extensive touring across Canada with Prism and his trio, Stone Poets, recently... as well as many past tours with Doug and the Slugs, Nick Gilder and Sweeney Todd, Toronto and Abandon Paris, often to audiences in the thousands. He's been nominated 4 years in a row for the BCCMA Keyboardist of the Year Award.

Marc is one of the directors at Pacific Northwest Radio and hosts a radio show every Sunday night (9pm) at www.pacificnorthwestradio.com called, "Green Beans, Mushroom Soup & Strawberry Ice Cream", providing insights into the rock and roll world, playing and promoting BC artists, and furthering international music of all genres.

A passion for music; a believer in fair compensation and a huge supporter of all types of music... he's one of the founding directors with the Canadian Musicians Coalition.
